Volunteers celebrated for their commitment

by Richard Westlund

Teenagers that find time to give to others were honored last week at the Didsbury Hospital.

The Volunteer program of Didsbury held their year-end awards ceremony in the basement of the Ward 4 building as organizers thanked the 17 youth volunteers that took part in the program this year.

"I would like to thank each and everyone of you. You bring a special flavour to the hospital," said Dawna Faryna, organizer of the Volunteer program. "When I am able to see smiling faces ... it is just such a wonderful thing to watch."

While the youth were recognized for the time they spent in the program and how it benefits other people, Faryna also said the teenagers benefit. The Volunteer program allows youth to explore the health industry and gives them an idea on whether it is something they would like to do as a career.

"I hope that by coming here we can instill benefits of healthcare."

Faryna added that Volunteers tend to have a head-start on other people that go into health industry positions as they have already learned how to care for other people.

2001 has been recognized as the International Year of the Volunteer by the United Nations and Faryna took the time to read a statement issued by the organization.

Before the evening drew to a close, the annual awards were handed out to the Volunteers.

Michelle Papineau received the annual bursary. In order to be eligible for the award, 300 volunteer hours have to be completed.

Before announcing the Volunteer of the Year award, Faryna took the time to read some letters of commendation that were written by those who had seen the 2001 winner, Melynda Schmidt, work at the hospital.

"This little girl is a very lovely helpful young lady and she deserves a pat on the back," stated one letter.

Another person wrote in their letter that in all the years he had been involved in healthcare, he had never encountered a more dedicated worker and that Schmidt was able to develop a non-verbal connection with many of the residents she helped.

"She is a credit to her family and the (Volunteer) program," the letter went on to say.

Faryna said picking a winner is a difficult chore every year because all of the Volunteers are 'so wonderful'.

"You mean a lot to the hospital," she said.

Thompson consulting with constituents about raise

by Richard Westlund

Local MP Myron Thompson said he is consulting with his constituents on whether he should sign up for the raise that was recently voted in favour for in the House on Commons.

Thompson, who represents the Wildrose Constituency, voted against the bill during first and second reading.

He was absent from the Commons during the third and final vote.

He said he probably would have voted against the pay raise a third time.

But ultimately the people of the area will decide if Thompson should get the raise.

And so far local people are overwhelmingly telling Thompson to take the raise.

"Everywhere I go people are telling me 'Don't be a fool and be one of the only people who doesn't take it,'" said Thompson adding that he believes there will be seven or eight MPs that will not take the raise.

Tory leader Joe Clark said that he will not take the raise, but Thompson was quick to point out his party subsidizes his income and that Clark is one of the highest paid politicians in Canada.

The situation, said Thompson, is much like the pension issue that many Reform members went through.

"They used that to make fools of us," said Thompson.

The pay raise isn't really the large issue here said Thompson, who points out that now the MPs pay taxes on their money and it will make very little difference in his income. The Wildrose MP said that parliament should never be responsible for saying they deserve a raise.

Thompson said it should have been put on an election platform so that the people could decide whether MPs deserve a raise or not.

"Now is not the time to be doing these things," said Thompson.

"They should be put in an election platform. The populous should be the ones who make the decision."

Thompson also stated it makes him angry that Tom Wopall who refused to help a veteran because he didn't vote for him in the election and Hedy Fry who falsely proclaimed that cross burnings were happening in British Columbia.

Thompson said he looks at them and what they are going to make.

He said he believes he is doing a better job representing his constituents.

Water Valley rave rejected by County

by Chris Puglia

It was the first test of the County's extended dance bylaw and during public hearings last week, County Council decided to deny an application by Anderson Valley Ranch to hold an all-night dance festival at the ranch on Canada Day weekend.

According to councillor Dianne Davies, the representative for the Cremona Water Valley area the vote to deny the application was unanimous, and council felt the venture was not appropriate for the area.

"There were a host of issues, from parking, to noise, to litter and clean-up," added planning officer John Rusling.

One of the largest concerns stemmed from last year's event which had people parking along secondary highway 579, something the County did not want to happen again.

As well the amount of noise the event would create posed a concern for County Council and for County residents.

In fact, Davies said there were a number of petitions being circulated requesting the rave not be allowed to go ahead.

Composting workshop held this weekend

The Didsbury Environmental Advisory Board will be holding a compost workshop on Saturday, June 23, 2001 at 10:00 A.M. at 16 Westheights Drive.

With the closing of the Didsbury dump within a year, it has become more important to try and reduce the amount of waste that must be disposed of.

Compostable materials comprise about 30 % of the total volume of materials that are thrown away as garbage. In the summer time, this percent can rise to over 40 %. Compostable waste, which includes thrown away food and yard waste - especially grass clippings - can be easily turned from a liability (garbage) to an asset by composting (fertilizer and soil conditioner).

This workshop is intended to provide information and examples of composting that can be used in an urban yard, or even in an apartment or rental unit. Uses of compost will be demonstrated with a tour of my yard to show how compost may be used and the benefits that it provides.

If you are not interested in composting, you could still help reduce the garbage amount by taking your grass clippings to the recycle centre and placing them in the "grass wagon", where they will be collected and hauled to the dump for composting.

Local area hit by four serious car collisions

by Richard Westlund

Two serious local motor vehicle accidents occurred within an hour of each other on June 11.

At 3:35 p.m., an automobile was heading North on Highway 2A when it collided with a truck which entered the highway from the West at the intersection of McCool Crescent. Both the driver of the car, a 49-year-old Louise May, and her husband Larry May of Crossfield were transported to hospital with serious injuries. The two were extracted from their vehicle with the Jaws of life.

The driver of truck Donald McMullen, 32, also of Crossfield, was also transported to hospital in critical condition. He had been ejected from his vehicle at the time of collision.

Thirty-five minutes later another serious two-vehicle collision occurred approximately 10 miles west of Carstairs on Highway 580. The vehicles involved were a Freightliner and a medium-sized passenger vehicle.

The Freightliner was attempting to pass the passenger vehicle when the collision occurred. Didsbury RCMP, Carstairs Fire Department and Mountain View Ambulance attended the scene. A 79-year-old female passenger was pronounced dead at the scene. Her 23-year-old driver was extracted with the Jaws of life and flown by STARS air ambulance to the Foothills hospital in Calgary with undetermined injuries. The driver of the freight liner Didsbury RCMP are continuing to investigate.

The two incidents happened three days after a 17-year-old Cremona girl was killed in a roll-over by the Didsbury Campground.

Fifty-four-year-old Selma Elsie Connett of Sundre died last Thursday when her vehicle was hit by a car when she failed to stop for a stop sign while driving eastbound on the Bergen Road.

Koinonia class of 2001 graduates

by April C.D. Barton

The Grade 12 class from Olds Koinonia Christian School shared the stage and spotlight together one last time Saturday at their Class of 2001 Graduation Ceremonies.

Held at Olds Baptist Church, the 22 graduates were joined by a full house of family and friends eager to share in the excitement of commencement.

Basing their graduation on the theme, "A Shining Light" - found in the book of Matthew 5:14-16 which states "You are the light of the world..." the graduating students entered the sanctuary escorted by their parents. Gerald Rempel, OKCS Grade 12 teacher, introduced the students by reading the personal messages each student had written specifically for their parents, after which a slideshow was presented. While being an exciting time for students, it also proved to be an emotional moment for both parents and classmates. Interestingly, between the 22 graduates, three of the students have attended Olds Koinonia since their first day of kindergarten. One of them - Katie Ahlf - daughter of Ken and Donna Ahlf of Didsbury, says graduation doesn't feel at all like she thought it would. "It feels really weird, but it also feels very good! It's been great to have made such good friends" she said.

For Larry and Linda Stone of Didsbury, this graduation marks the end of 22 years of parental involvement with Olds Koinonia. Their older son was in Koinonia's first Grade 1 class in Bergen back in 1979.

"Back then, we drove 120 miles a day round-trip, two times a week, to get to school," she said. "Now we drive 36 miles a day... I look forward to not having to drive to School! This will just be a new stage of life."

Valedictorians, chosen by fellow students, were Amy Lynn and Greg Weber, both of Didsbury. "Regarding our theme," said Greg, "this school has given us a good foundation in life and we don't want to hide away. We want to make a difference in the world."

Various awards were also presented during the ceremony. These included:

- Student of the Year, the Huber Memorial Scholarship of $200, for leadership qualities, attitude and Christian testimony, given to: Peter Casurella of Didsbury;
- The Town of Didsbury Scholarship, a $100 award presented to Amy Lynn, a Didsbury resident with strong academic standing who is planning on pursuing further studies;
- An OKCS Scholarships of $400 for a student going on to further Christian studies, awarded to Chantal Day; and
- The Canada Millenium Scholarship, based on academic achievement, community involvement and leadership skills, was given to Amanda Taylor of Carstairs. Following the ceremony and one final class photo, family and friends then enjoyed a full-course banquet at Carstairs Community Hall.

Music in the air ...

Westglen's Stage Band performed an outdoor set last week as the school welcomed the Grade 4 class from Ross Ford to tour the facility and meet the students and teachers. The day is designed to make students more comfortable in their transition between the two schools. The morning included a breakfast and introductions once in the school.

Man convicted in death of two Didsbury residents

by Dan Singleton

A Didsbury man has been convicted in the drunk driving deaths of two local people killed in a two-vehicle motor vehicle accident on July 31, 1999.

Darrin James Page was found guilty of two counts of impaired driving causing death and one Count of impaired driving causing bodily harm.

Page was convicted following a jury trial in Calgary last week.

Page was one of three people in a truck that slammed head-on into another truck on Hwy 2A just south of Didsbury.

Kenneth Gordon Gebers, 37, and Korena

Dawn Hobbs, 40, both of Didsbury, were killed in the accident.

The driver of the second vehicle, John Haney, 50, of Carstairs, was injured in the crash, which took place shortly before noon.

Debris from the extremely violent crash was spread over a large area.

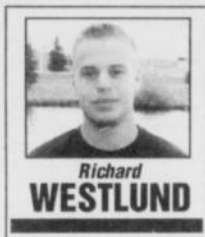

Gord Gebers, father of Kenneth, said he feels justice has been done with the conviction of Page.

"Yes I do. That's it for me," he said Saturday. A member of Hobbs family, who asked not to be named, also called the conviction just.

Page was expected to be sentenced on June 19.

OPINIONS EDITORIAL

Road rash

Richard
WESTLUND

In the past two weeks there have been four serious collisions in the area. Three of them have produced fatalities.

Simply, that is too many.

Last week the village of Cremona had three graves dug. Two of them were from victims of these collisions.

That is too many.

In an instant lives can be lost on the road.

And the effects of these events ripple through entire communities and families can spend years getting over tragic losses. Deaths can occur when people are being responsible behind the wheel. It takes one other person not being careful, not being responsible to take a life on the road.

So what is the answer.

We could look at the laws and say they are not strict enough.

Or maybe its the enforcement of the laws.

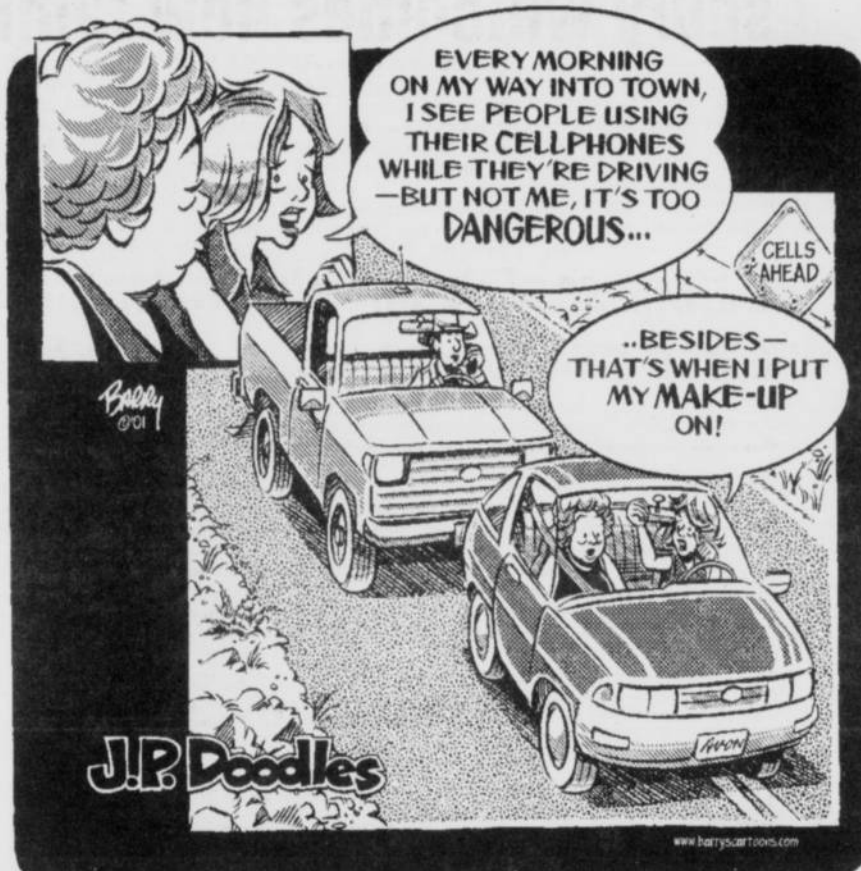

Or maybe, just maybe, it is that drivers get behind the wheel who don't really realize they are getting behind the wheel of a weapon - a device with enough power to kill. And without that realization there is a lack of respect for the situation and an attitude of ignorant carelessness.

We need to be responsible for ourselves and our actions. Whether we are getting behind the wheel after having one too many drinks, not wearing a seatbelt, talking on our cellphones, doing our hair, playing with the radio there must be a realization that we are putting ourselves and others in danger.

The consequences are suffered by many and sometimes the pain of losing someone takes a lifetime to get over.

Pay attention, respect the road and your vehicles power. The rules have been put in place for a reason and must be followed.

Because we have lost too many people already.

Candidates sought for RHA elections

Albertans decide the future of health care through RHA elections

Albertans now have another avenue to become directly involved in how health care is delivered in this province.

In 1998, this government made a promise that Albertans would elect members to their regional health authority boards. This fall, that promise will be realized.

On October 15, 2001, Albertans will elect 126 members across the province for Alberta's 17 regional health authorities. These members will make up two-thirds of each health authority board. Health and Wellness Minister Gary Mar will appoint the other one-third of the board within 30 days of the election.

To ensure there is representation in all health authorities, we are basing the number of board members on the population of each region. Regions with

- Under 80,000 residents will have nine members
- 80,000 to 200,000 residents will have 12 members
- over 200,000 will have 15 members.

We want Albertans from all walks of life to have an opportunity to play a key role in determining how health care services are delivered in their region - either by voting for a regional health authority member, running in the election, or letting their name stand for appointment.

You are encouraged to put your name forward for appointment to the health authority board, but you must act fast. The June 4, 2001 deadline to file your nomination form is just around the corner, and we want to ensure everyone has a chance.

To be eligible for an appointed position, you must be 18 years of age or older, a Canadian citizen, a resident of Alberta for six consecutive months prior to election day and a resident of the health region on nomination day.

Any eligible Albertan who wishes to put their name forward for appointment as an RHA member is encouraged to do so, even if they are also considering running for an elected position.

To run for an elected position, you must meet all the same eligibility requirements as an appointed position, plus you must be a resident of the electoral district on nomination day.

You can pick up nomination forms in mid June for elected positions at municipal offices, the health authority office and Alberta Health and Wellness. Nomination papers for the elected positions must be filed on Nomination Day - September 17, 2001.

Alberta Health and Wellness and the local regional health authority will be publishing more information regarding the elections over the summer and in early September.

Though you do not have to stand for election or appointment, I encourage you to make your views known by voting in the health authority elections on October 15, 2001. Now is your chance to do your part for health care. Your voice can make a difference.

Wonderings of the heart

Missed Reservations

by Margaret Fradley

One of the special and fun times in Parksville and Qualruim on B.C. Island is the Annual 'Brant Festival' held from 6th to 8th. A brant resembles a Canada Goose, and is a little larger than a mallard. They are easily identifiable, having a black breast and a white collar on their neck.

As many as 20,000 brants arrive, coming from Mexico on route to Alaska; they have a stop over and rest here on the Island. Many mornings one can be awakened early with the brants loud "honking" good mornings.

To date, we are three days away from the festival, where people gather from far and wide, but, there are no brants. They have not arrived as yet, in spite of reservations made!! Often these birds arrive as early as February, but the majority come mid-March. The question most asked is, "Where are the Brants?"

The brants spend most of the daylight hours feeding, as the tide goes out, exposing their food, often, as well, they are seen preening themselves on the exposed sandbars. Some years ago, we saw them and certainly miss them swooping down in the thousands and soaring upward again as if at a given signal.

Now I ask you, a festival without the 'guest of honor' will be, indeed, a different feat, will it not.

Although only about 3000 brants showed up this year, it was said the three day festival was a "flapping success."

Didsbury welcomes new family with open arms

Dear Editor,

My husband and I moved into Didsbury late last fall and enjoy our new home and Didsbury very much.

My reason for writing this note is to compliment the citizens of Didsbury for their overwhelming friendliness and kindness.

I have yet to walk downtown and not be greeted by almost everyone I met.

They always have a cheery smile and a friendly hello and I know very few of them by name.

The seniors are most notably the first to pass on a smile and a greeting.

A big bouquet also to the business people in town. They are helpful, cheerful and always ready to help you find anything you may be looking for.

And if they don't have what you need they direct you to the business that will be able to help you. This is service. It makes you go out of your way to shop here first whenever possible.

I found the staff at the golf course, the players and the Aquaplex staff all very accommodating.

Their attitude and friendly spirit and makes you want to participate in their activities.

The staff at the library and the town hall is included in this bouquet.

We have lived in several places during the past 30 years and I really do believe that this is, by far, the friendliest. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Donna Little

Protecting society should be top priority for Canadian politicians when accepting immigrants

Dear Editor,

At times protecting society must outweigh the claims of individuals.

Immigrants have no "right" to enter Canada. Those entering should not be either a danger to, nor a burden upon society.

Those carrying highly contagious diseases such as tuberculosis have long been considered as both.

Those carrying HIV fall into the same category.

Indisputably accepting HIV carriers will increase medical costs through payment for their expensive medications, and, the numbers capable of transmitting it to others.

These realities were recognized last year when all testing HIV positive were to be unable to gain entry, except in exceptional circumstances with the burden of argument was resting upon the individual.

The Immigration Minister has altered this.

All cases are to be reviewed now.

This adds costs and with decisions being made made "on grounds that could be quite arbitrary."

In all likelihood, court challenges will ensue.

Where does the Immigration Minister's primary responsibility lie?

As a Vancouver Province editorial states well "Her first duty in this case is clear. It's to the many, not the few, and she should revert to the earlier policy."

Minister Caplan is unlikely to do so, however, without local Members of Parliament being informed of their constituents' concerns, accompanied by the request that the matter be raised with her and they be given her response.

Yours truly,
Joe Hueglin

The first annual soapbox derby was a resounding hit with racer after racer coming down the hill with a big smile on his or her face. The Lions Club sold the racing kits to the racers at cost and only advertized the event locally this year. Organizers believe next year's event will be even bigger.

Soapbox derby a hit with Didsbury

Rain and more rain! Do we go? Do we cancel? We have no plan B. Can we get a second road closure? All these things churn in your mind in the last days before this our first Soap Box Derby. Saturday morning dawned not raining, not quite bright and clear, but it got better as the day went on. Road barriers went up; lane lines marked; tent raised; grill started; starting ramp assembled; sound system tested, all getting done by eight o'clock.

Inspection and registration. Off to a shaky start. We can make this much smoother. We are in a learning mode. Next year!

Everyone got their t-shirt, button, a cap and were called to the starting ramp for a trial run. Some went very well and some powered out about half way down. Kids and parents did a lot of tuning and tweaking and lubricating. Then we had another trial run. Driving improved.-- Concentrate, don't worry about the other guy, or Mom or anybody at the side.-Almost all made it to the end.

Post time brought out cars of all descriptions. Some were plain, some had fancy paint and some were really exotic in design and color. It was a pleasure to see the expressions on the drivers faces. This was really an exiting thing for them and some were just a bit scared.

The hill looks fine when you are on foot, but when you're in the driver's seat it gets a whole lot steeper.

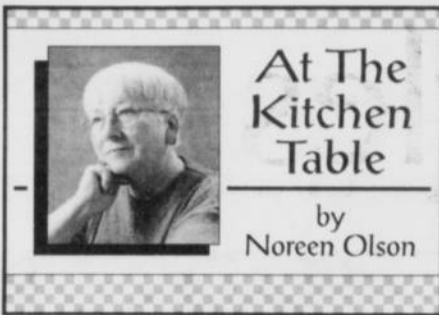

The qualifier put the entrants in one of three events depending on how they placed in the first race. Heat followed on heat until at last the winners of each division were announced. Then the last race, just for fun, between division winners. A came in first, B. second and C. third.

Prizes were awarded and the drivers came forward to claim their prize, and a plaque for the first in every division. Prizes were accompanied by more t-shirts, caps and water bottles.

No one went home empty handed nor empty stomach since the Lions Tent & Grill were operating throughout the event. Each entrant received in their kit a ticket for a hamburger and one for a pop courtesy of AG foods and Don's World Travel. Fas Gas with Lamberts Service supplied the T-shirts, Riemer's donated caps, helped with prize money, and let us use their yard, Mountain View Electronics supplied and set up the sound system and let us use their tent for administration, The RCMP gave us T-shirts and water bottles, The Didsbury Review provided car number cards, The Rotary Club of Airdrie loaned us their starting ramps, The ball clubs sent their line marker, The Town of Didsbury brought the road signs and swept the race course. Dick's Trucking, Grasse Lumber, Southern Collision, Fountain Tire, Alcorn Insurance, Childspace Mfg., Aurora Travel, Cumberland Electrical, Dumax Petroleum, Jensen Trucking, Show and Shine, each sponsored vehicles and/or drivers as did a number of individuals, parents and grandparents. The Didsbury Lions Club wishes to thank all who generously contributed to make this a great and successful event. The drivers had a really good time building and racing. They had chance to compete, to meet new friends, sharpen their skills and build high hopes for next year when the competition will be keener and the entries more numerous.

Once there was a fairly normal, reasonably happy lady who liked to keep a neat garden. She liked nice clean edges on her flower beds, she hated grass growing anywhere other than the lawn, she could not tolerate one plant creeping into another and she especially disliked spent blooms on her flowering plants. She spent hours following grass roots into primulas and columbines and then removing them with the dedication of a brain surgeon, she was heartless about grubbing sweet faced pansies out from under her rose bushes, and petunia blossoms had scarcely begun to wilt when she snapped them off and dropped them into her compost bin.

"Anything that's growing where it doesn't belong is a weed," she told herself grimly as she yanked up another pansy or hoed down a patch of poppies. Her forget-me-nots and lily of the valley were relegated to a bit of grass under a tree because they spread so badly that she would not have them in a flower bed and after her bad experience with the invasive -blue flax she wouldn't have it anywhere. She could recognize a 2 inch flax plant from a distance of forty paces. All flax plants were immediately destroyed.

She knew the names of all her flowers and she knew the names of all her weeds. Stinkweed, groundsel, henbit, clover, dandelions, chickweed, pigweed, thistle, she chanted their names like a mantra, her spade and trowel were never far from her hand, her faithful dandelion digger never really cooled off, she was relentless, ruthless and ultimately exhausted but still she pursued every grass root, every plant of whatever ilk, if it grew where it didn't belong.

Dogs and cats were allowed to walk sedately among her flower beds but never in them and any dog who even contemplated burying something was putting his life at risk. When deer ate her rosebuds and a moose chewed on a willow tree she de-posted her land and sometimes on really dark nights she would black out the NO on her neighbors NO HUNTING signs.

Not all guests were welcome in the garden and small children were regarded with thinly veiled distrust. A sedate game of bean bag toss was occasionally allowed on the lawn but no one played catch in the garden and no one threw Frisbees either. Her family had mixed emotions about her gardening. Yes it looked nice, but occasionally there were murmured words like, "compulsive," "crabby," fanatic," and "obsessive." Still, they loved her and because she had other less unfortunate qualities they tolerated her fixation and mostly overlooked it, as long as the problem stayed at home.

And then she began going public. "Do you mind?" she said as she pulled stinkweeds from the ornamental stone display at the Garden Centre. "Are you going to let that groundsel go to seed," she asked the caretaker at City Hall. "These bloom longer and better if you remove the spent blossoms," she told a shop owner at the Mall. She was picking dead heads off his petunias at the time. In friends gardens she surreptitiously picked seed heads from pansies and snapped overblown blooms from geraniums. One day while she was using her nail file to furiously dig grass from a bed of Junipers in front of the Dairy Queen three men in white coats arrived and took her away. As she was being led into the Hospital Psychiatric wing she broke loose and ripped 4 male blossoms from a begonia. "Now the female flowers will grow larger," She assured the attendants.

She has a lovely room. It's filled with flowers. All plastic of course. There are no weeds, no wilting blooms, no slugs, no dandelions or groundsel, no grass insinuating its sneaky roots into the primula. Once in a while she waters them.

Hope you are all able to get out and enjoy the lovely weather. We have had our planters planted.

Our Activity Co-ordinator has been on holidays but we have been kept busy just the same. The Catholic Ladies came on Wednesday and called Bingo and on Thursday the Glamis W.I. Ladies came and called Bingo and served a lovely lunch. Then on Friday afternoon the children from O.B.A.S.C.A. came with "goodies" and helped serve lunch and visited and told us about some of their plans for the summer holidays.

In hospital we have Anna Aschenbrenner, Gladys Donald and Nita St. Clair.

SUMMER TREE TIP

Benefits of Mulch:

Mulch has many advantages for growing health trees.

- Mulch inhibits weed's growth.
- Mulch protects the trunk of the tree from lawn mower & weed trimmer damage.
- Mulch holds in moisture. Did you know trees need the equivalent of 1" of rain every 7 to 10 days. The majority of water absorbing roots are in the top 6" of soil. Shallow watering does not properly meet the need's of trees & excess water at the tree trunk encourages growth of fungi that can kill trees. Putting down mulch will help the moisture from evaporating at a quick rate, during hot & dry weather & during Chinook & winter winds.
- It is recommended to install 2-3" of mulch up to the tree's drip line, or at least a 3 foot diameter circle around the trunk of the tree. Ensure that the mulch does not touch the trunk of the tree!

Some trees make their own mulch. When doing yard work clean up leave needles & cones under evergreen trees. It is best to use organic material such as bark mulch or wood chips, rather than gravel.

FOR TREES COMPANY will supply & install SUNPINE Bark Mulch

Focus on the Family

QUESTION: Do childhood traumas inevitably twist and warp a person in the adult years?

DR. DOBSON: No. Difficult childhoods leave some people wounded and disadvantaged, but for others, they fuel great achievement and success. The difference appears to be a function of individual temperament and resourcefulness. In a classic study called "Cradles of Eminence," Victor and Mildred Goertzel investigated the home backgrounds of 400 highly successful people. The researchers sought to identify the early experiences that may have contributed to remarkable achievement. All of the subjects were well known for their accomplishments; they included Einstein, Freud, Churchill and many others. The backgrounds of these people proved very interesting. Three-fourths of them came from troubled childhoods, enduring poverty, broken homes or parental abuse. One-fourth had physical handicaps. Most of those who became writers and playwrights had watched their own parents embroiled in psychological dramas of one sort or another. The researchers concluded that the need to compensate for disadvantages was a major factor in the drive toward personal achievement. One of the best illustrations of this phenomenon is seen in the life of Eleanor Roosevelt, the former first lady. Orphaned at 10, she underwent a childhood of utter anguish. She was very homely and never felt she really belonged to anybody. According to Victor Wilson of the Newhouse News Service, "She was a rather humorless introvert, a young woman unbelievably shy, unable to overcome her personal insecurity and with a conviction of her own inadequacy."

The world knows, however, that Mrs. Roosevelt rose above her emotional shackles. As Wilson said, "... from some inner wellspring, Mrs. Roosevelt summoned a tough, unyielding courage, tempered by remarkable self-control and self-discipline." That "inner wellspring" has another appropriate name: compensation! Obviously, one's attitude toward a handicap determines its impact on his or her life. It has become popular to blame adverse circumstances for irresponsible behavior, i.e., poverty causes crime, broken homes produce juvenile delinquents, a sick society imposes drug addiction on its youth. There is some truth in this assumption, since people in those difficult circumstances are more likely to behave in destructive ways. But they are not forced to do so. To say that adverse conditions "cause" irresponsible behavior is to remove all responsibility from the shoulders of the individual. The excuse is hollow. We must each decide what we will do with inner doubt or outer hardship.

The application to an individual family should be obvious. If a child has gone through a traumatic experience or is physically disadvantaged, his or her parents need not give up hope. They should identify his or her strengths and natural abilities, which can be used to overcome the hurdle. The problem that seems so formidable today may become the inspiration for greatness tomorrow.

QUESTION: You have described two extremes that are both harmful to kids, being too permissive and being too harsh. Which is the most common error in Western cultures today?

DR. DOBSON: Permissiveness is still more common and has been since the 1950s. But harshness and severity still occur frequently as well. These dual dangers are equally harmful to children and were described by Marguerite and Willard Beecher in their book "Parents on the Run." This is how they saw the two extremes: "The adult-centered home of yesteryear made parents the masters and children their slaves. The child-centered home of today has made parents the slaves and children the masters. There is no true cooperation in any master-slave relationship, and therefore no democracy. Neither the restrictive-authoritative technique of rearing children nor the newer 'anything goes' technique develop the genius within the individual, because neither trains him to be self-reliant. The way to raise healthy children is to find the safety of the middle ground between disciplinary extremes."

Summer Fun Program Returns

There should be no cause for cries of boredom coming from kids in Didsbury this summer.

Starting July 2nd and running through until August 17th, the ever-popular Summer Fun Program will return and with it a multitude of recreational, educational, artistic and social activities to keep kids from grades 1 - 6 entertained and busy.

Trudy Goode, who works closely with the Program, says providing a safe, fun educational and recreational outlet for children over the summer months offers more than just an enjoyable opportunity for their kids, for some families it also provides essential supervision. There's always that looming question in the minds of working parents of what to do with the kids during the day while Mom and Dad are at work. For these people Summer Fun picks up where school left off. The Town-operated program will be based out of the Memorial Complex and will focus on providing a "family" setting for all activities (as opposed to separating children into various age groups or grades). "We will be renting a bus for field trips outside town and making use of a lot of the parks locally for picnics and playtime," says Goode. Anyone interested in registering for the Program is encouraged to call the Recreation and Facility Services Department at 335-7369.

All Breed Horse Show Celebrates 39th Year

Summer in Didsbury means the inevitable return of the All Breed Horse Show to the Arena. This year on July 13th and 14th the 39-year-old tradition will continue.

The Show is co-sponsored by Didsbury and District Light Horse and the Didsbury and District Agricultural Society and typically attracts up to 200 horse breeders from across the province.

Dallas Haeberle, President of the Didsbury and District Light Horse, says this year's event promises to be the best yet. "We are still getting in entries from virtually everywhere. We have 89 different classes taking place over the span of two days...it's probably one of the biggest open horse shows in the province."

Friday (July 13th) will mark the beginning of "Junior Day" and will take in events involving Showmanship, Equitation, Pleasure, Trail, Pony Halter Classes, Pony Driving Classes, American Saddle Breed Classes during the day and Five Gated Class and Jumping Class Friday Evening.

Saturday (July 14th) the action will include Halter Classes in the morning, Senior Showmanship Classes Western Equitation, English Equitation, Saddleseat, English and Western Pleasure Classes, Trail Horse Classes (Senior and Junior), and American Saddlebred Classes along with Draft Horse Team Obstacle Riding, Draft Horse Team Class, Sidesaddle Class, Draft Horse Single Cart Class, Stakes Classes, and English and Western Saddleseat Classes.

"We receive sponsorship for many of the prizes for the various categories from individuals and businesses in Didsbury and the surrounding area," explains Haeberle.

Anyone interested in entering the event can contact Show Secretary, Fay Haeberle, at 335-4061. The show runs throughout the day Friday and Saturday with evening performances starting at 7:00 PM. All spectators welcome.

Battle of the Bands

Jolene Papke believes her vision to one day showcase the vast array of musical talent by young people in Didsbury at an annual event is more than just a dream - it's a fitting tribute to the multitude of talented youth in town.

And so was born the idea Papke and members of her Anglican Church Youth Group have to host a "Battle of the Bands" concert town during the summer. "I just think there's so many we? wonderful musicians and vocalists out there who deserve our recognition (jazz, punk, rock and roll, country? etc.) ...This is definitely one way of seeing to it that they get the exposure they deserve."

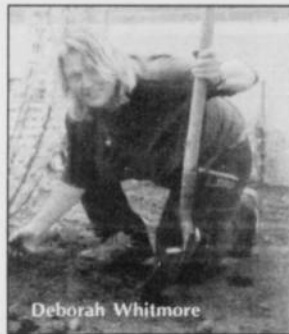

So far the only stumbling block to the musical concert vision may be location. First thoughts to hold the event at one of the ball diamonds in town were quickly discounted after realizing the impact the potential noise level might have on local residents. "Having it at a community hall located just outside town might be a better option for us once we get more into the planning stages of this idea. This is really all so much still a vision of ours and I don't know if it can even happen this summer, but that's our dream."

Realizing the project financially is so far not a concern - at least for year #1. "Our Church group has been doing a lot of fundraising over the past few years...anything from car washes, to craft sales, pancake suppers and family fun nights," explains Papke. "...and there's already businesses and individuals around town that are willing to donate prizes. It's looking very promising."

Ultimately Papke believes her vision for the Battle of the Bands will give musicians and vocalists a much-needed outlet to display their talents. "You see them playing all over at coffee houses, in local hotels, schools or even their own garage. It would be wonderful to provide them with a professional outlet for their music."

Jolene Papke

Deborah Whitmore

Landscaping Project a Labour of Love

Residents and visitors passing by the Town's new Planning & Development Building are in for a pleasant surprise thanks to the hard work of Deborah Whitmore recently. For the past two weeks Whitmore and her assistant have been busy landscaping the grounds surrounding what was the old Telus building in preparation for the new facilities grand opening on Thursday.

"We started this whole process about two weeks ago digging out the old soil and filling it with better quality soil," explains Whitmore. "...it was a messy process slogging around in the mud with all the rain we've been getting, but I think we are well on the way to seeing some good results."

When Whitmore first took the project on, some of the criteria she was asked to meet was, firstly, that she stay within budget and, secondly, that the plants installed be of low maintenance without sacrificing aesthetics I think it's worked out pretty well. All of the plants we have here now are perennials and there's a lot of big-diversity. To the layperson, big-diversity among horticulturists spells beautiful flowering plants with built-in pest control defenses. "Not every plant attracts the same kind of pest. It just makes sense to plant a good variety, then your whole garden isn't wiped out with the onset of just one kind of bug."

Gardeners and non-gardeners alike will now be able to stop along their stroll downtown to view such plant varieties as the Double-flowering Plum, Siberian Dogwood, Goats beard, Day Lilies, Creeping Speedwell, Bunch Berry, Shrub Honeysuckle, Prince of Wales Juniper, Goldflame Spiraea, Boxwood, Englishman Ivy, Soapwort, Bearded and Loopedloop Irises, Garden Flox, Babies Breath, Woolly Tyme, Silver Mound, Alpine Asters, Shasta Daisies, and John Cabot Rose Bushes (to name a few!).

"Five to ten years from now this is going to look fantastic. A lot of this foliage will be well-established and the vines will have crept up the wall. It's going to be great."

Campground attracts Travelers from across North America

Rosebud Valley Campground is more than just a landmark completing the scenic drive up the hill towards town. Travelers across North America have come to know the facility as a tried and trusted respite from their long journey across Canada for their summer vacation.

"We see many return customers," says Rosemary Hancock who manages the campground with her husband Gordon. "...a lot of people make us their regular stop on the way up from the U.S. to Alaska. They have come to know this spot and seem to like it, so they return year after year."

The Hancocks understand first-hand the value of a well-kept, friendly campground. Since leaving their hometown of Fort McMurray six years ago, they have been spending summers in Didsbury managing the campground and winters motorhoming to Arizona. "We are building a permanent residence here in Didsbury now, so we'll be staying put for awhile, but soon enough we'll be returning back to Arizona for the winter."

"Winter" for the Hancocks typically ends in April when warmer weather and spring thaw allow for camping season to begin again. "We generally open around April 15th...but it really depends on how much drilling is taking place in the oilfields. Many of our customers in the early season are workers stationed in the area. It's not too busy to start off with, but come the beginning of May things really start to get hectic."

Rosemary and Gordon Hancock

Museum Musings: Volunteers thanked by Historical Society

by Marg Weaver

This being the "Year of the Volunteer" I would like to give mention to some of my very favorite "Volunteers". These people work at the Museum. They are our President, the Executive, the Board Members and the people who work outside of the Board, all "Volunteers". We have not had a paid Office Coordinator over the last year. "Volunteers" have taken on these duties, and very well, I may add.

The Museum shares the work amongst Committees. These groups divide the jobs and are responsible for getting people to work with them. "Volunteers".

Their latest project, the third annual Sprouts and Stuff plant and yard sale was very successful. The money raised will certainly help with Museum Administration. Once again, thanks to willing "Volunteers".

Another annual event is the Didsbury High School

Band Concert, an end of the school year project, with which the Museum is involved. We serve dessert and drinks for a nominal fee. The Museum is open during the concert, for anyone who wishes to go through. Again, the work of willing "Volunteers".

Our School Tours have also proven very successful, and although not a fund raiser, is still a very important project. These youngsters are our future "Volunteers". They thoroughly enjoy themselves sitting in the old desks in the Classroom - one of our permanent exhibits. Last Wednesday, Mrs Jensen's Grade III class from Ross Ford, each brought a Grade I student, and took them on a tour to show them everything they themselves have seen in past tours, and wanted to share.

Another very important "Volunteer" is our Archivist, Jim. He takes care of all the treasures that are brought in to be displayed. He catalogues and numbers these artifacts and sends thank you certificates to the gift givers. Natalie, Denise, Joan and Marilyn are also very important "Volunteers". These people make sure everyone is entertained at the different functions. Their happy laughter is a gift to our Museum. Our men-folk who work so hard to keep things running smoothly are "Volunteers" all, and what would we do without them. Evelyn, our gardener, Bill who keeps the Museum clean, and Art our odd-job-man, who also fills in for absentees, and helps wherever needed, are ALL "VOLUNTEERS".

ALBERTA MENINGOCOCCAL IMMUNIZATION 2001

spread the word not the disease

PROVINCIAL MENINGOCOCCAL IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM

VACCINATING 2 - 24 YEAR OLDS

- This is a precautionary measure, taken by your regional health authority and Alberta Health and Wellness, to protect the age group at highest risk and to prevent the spread of meningococcal disease in Alberta.
- The vaccine provides 80 to 85 per cent protection against developing meningococcal disease.
- The vaccine is safe with few side effects. If you have been vaccinated in the last five years, a second vaccination is not recommended.
- Please make every effort to be vaccinated in the health region you reside. Proof of age and residence such as a driver's license, envelope address or student ID is required.

WELL TESTING - Work in the oil & gas service industry as a gas well tester and get an education at the same time.

Central Production Testing Ltd. and its divisions are looking for confident, sharp, independent, team-oriented outdoors people to fill immediate positions at their district offices in Grande Prairie, Red Deer/Blackfalds and Calgary. As an employee, you are immediately enrolled in the Petroleum Engineering Tech program at SAIT. In addition to this program, individuals receive on the job training. Previous oil & gas process or testing experience is a definite asset but not necessary. A good mechanical aptitude is most beneficial. Reliable transportation to our base is required, however, we provide transportation to our work sites throughout western Canada. For experienced well testers, we offer owner-operated programs. For employees we offer competitive benefits packages. We work for some of the best customers in the world - the oil & gas producers and explorers. If you want to learn more about well testing check us out at www.careersmidlandgas.com - see the well testing sections. Complete our on-line application at our website, www.cptl.net or forward a resume to joanna.shea@bceiridge.com or fax your resume to Joanna Shea at 403.571.5191.

Bakery will be expanded in the near future

Andrea Popovski said that business has been good since the bakery made its move across the street from the post-office. An expansion of the building has been planned for the near future.

Gramma's Bakery's planned renovation includes a late-1800s look.

Many believe that location is everything when they are trying to operate a new business.

And while making a move one block over has benefited Gramma's Bakery, which has been open for two months, plans are much grander for the business.

Two months ago Andrea and Cane Popovski brought a new bakery to town. Recently they made a move across the street from the post-office. Now their business has picked up as people are buying bread and pastries when they pick up their mail.

Currently their operation only allows them to sell their product which are made in Carstairs at the couples other bakery. But a planned expansion will change all of that.

This summer the couple hopes to expand their Didsbury operation to include a bistro and a new bakery in the back so production can increase and frequent commute between the two small town can stop.

While the bakery will offer the same goods as before the bistro will offer some European lunches such as sausage rolls, quiche European cakes and freshly made sandwiches.

"We have decided to go this route because we have discovered that people of Didsbury are adventurous and like to try new things," said Andrea.

"So far they have really supported our ideas and we would like to give them a little variety for their lunches."

It is also an opportunity for Didsburians to have a coffee and a pastry, she said.

The new bistro would be run by Marko Popovski and the bistro would have a strong European influence in both the food it offers and the decor of the building.

A building plan has already been created by Spectrum Design which is located in Didsbury.

"The interior will have a late 1800's theme," said Andrea.

The life of operating a bakery is not always an easy one. The operation starts at 1 a.m. when the baking starts. And the store doesn't close until 5:30 p.m. making for a very long day.

"You get used to it," said Andrea, who has been in the business for 26 years. "Eventually it is just in your system."

Andrea hopes that construction on the expansion is able to start next month.

"It's a terrific plan," she said.

Crossfield manufacturer unveils towers for wind energy

RNG Pro-Tech Inc. along with Vision Quest Windelectric Inc. today proudly watched Alberta's Minister of Economic Development, the Honourable Mark Norris, cut a ribbon to celebrate the production of its newest custom-manufactured product, a specially designed wind turbine tower.

When fully erected, the slender steel tower stands about 16 storeys (50m/165ft) tall, and is custom-built to support Denmark-based manufacturer Vestas Wind Systems 660kw wind turbines used by Vision Quest Windelectric Inc. at its Castle River Windfarm near Pincher Creek, Alberta.

"RNG Pro-Tech's forward thinking and 'Let's make it happen' attitude in all of our employees has resulted in the continued growth of our company through new product lines such as wind turbine towers. Over the past four months the wind turbine towers alone have created 20 new permanent positions in our Crossfield facility, and we expect more new positions to be created as the demand for more wind turbines increases," says Tony Giasson, vice-president of RNG Pro-Tech Inc.

RNG Pro-Tech operates from three manufacturing facilities located in Lennoxville and Sherbrooke, Quebec, and Crossfield, Alberta, for a total production capacity of more than 244,000 sq.ft. Wind turbine towers are currently being manufactured in both Alberta and Quebec. To date, Alberta wind energy producers have had to import almost all of the equipment they need to install the wind turbines that supply this province's ever-growing demands for environmentally friendly green power. "We have been working hard for years to initiate Canadian manufacturing in this sector," says Vision Quest's Jason Edworthy. "This is a huge one on the path towards full domestic wind turbine manufacturing capability."

Twelve of the Vision Quest turbines are being constructed to meet the anticipated demand on ENMAX Energy's Greenmax program. The anticipated demand is the result of increased customer participation as well as Ride the Wind! Through the Ride the Wind! program, Calgary Transit will support the Greenmax program for the amount of electricity required to operate the City's light rail transit system (LRT).

"As the first Canadian company to offer our customers the opportunity to support renewable, wind-generated energy, we're proud of our leadership role in the growth and development of alternative sources of energy in Alberta," says Sean Durfy, chief operating officer, ENMAX Energy. "Through Greenmax, residential and commercial customers, such as Calgary Transit, are able to support clean, emissions-free electricity."

Ride the Wind! means

Calgary will be the first city in North America to support zero-emissions electricity for a portion of its transit system.

Energy giant TransAlta is also a major supporter of wind-generated power, investing $10 million in Vision Quest in the past two years. TransAlta has also signed a contract with Vision Quest to switch its Calgary-based corporate head office to wind power.

"Wind-generated electricity has no air emissions such as those which contribute to smog or global climate change, the facilities can be installed very quickly, and the industry is making significant contributions to rural employment and taxes," says Edworthy. "We at Vision Quest are very excited about being able to obtain the towers that we need right now and into the future, right here in Alberta."

The first RNG Pro-Tech Inc. wind tower will be delivered to Vision Quest in June, and will be installed in July 2001.

Alberta farm conditions - crops starting to get rain

Alberta farmers saw about six tenths of an inch of rain on average during the past week with amounts ranging from a few tenths up to 1.3 inches in parts of the Peace. In the central region around Edmonton rainfall varied from a half inch to west/northwest and southeast, to one inch in the east/northeast and south/southwest areas. Rainfall in the Calgary area varied from six tenths north of the city and eight tenths to the south. Farmers in the extreme southern area of the province saw from three to four tenths of an inch. With the exception of the Peace, the rainfall was welcome relief from dry conditions. Soil moisture conditions in the province have improved slightly over last week, rating fair to good.

Moisture conditions are very good trending to excessive in the Peace. Agricore staff at Fahler say crops are looking good but require some heat to get them going. Crop spraying is well underway in this area. Staff at Rycroft report that spraying is general in the area and that crops have improved since last week. They also report that flea beetles have been spotted in some crops. Farmers in the Dawson Creek area are looking for the rains to stop and for more heat to move the crop along. Grande Prairie area farmers are also looking for more sun and heat. Crop conditions in the High Level and Fahler areas are good and range from average to good in the western area of the Peace.

Soil moisture in the central region generally is close to a good rating except in the area to the west which is trending towards fair. Staff at Westlock say that crops are starting to look good but need more moisture. Some spraying has been done in the area. Acheson staff report that soil conditions have improved with recent showers but crops are advancing unevenly due to poor germination in some fields. Spraying in the Acheson area will be general this week. Stations to the southeast of Edmonton would like to see more rain and less wind. Spraying is general in this area now that winds have subsided. In the Lacombe area recent rains have improved the outlook and farmers are out spraying. Staff at Stettler report only spotty showers and strong winds have hampered spraying. They report farmers are spraying for grasshoppers in the Castor to Consort area in spite of the winds. Crops are generally in average to below average condition.

In the south, rainfall during the past week, ranging on average from three tenths to eight tenths, has made a difference except in the Foremost area where crops are burned and dust is blowing. In the area north and east of Calgary better moisture conditions have improved the outlook and farmers are out spraying. Agricore staff at Equity say that 5 to 10 percent of the canola acres in the area have been re-seeded to barley because of dry conditions. More moisture will be needed in this area to maintain crop development. South of Calgary, Agricore staff reports show that moisture received helped but they are still in need of a general rain and less wind soon. Spraying for grasshoppers is general in the area. In the southeast Stirling, Bow Island report that rain is still needed desperately. Crops are only hanging because of cool temperatures. Staff at Dunmore say their area has 'greened up' with recent showers but the Medicine Hat area is still desperate for rain. Soil moisture in the south has improved but is still rated as short to fair. Crop conditions range from average to poor as you move from the area north of Calgary to the south.

Volunteers are the Heart & Life of a community

Volunteers are being recognized globally and nationally. The United Nations has designated 2001 as the International Year of Volunteers. Various events are planned throughout the year in communities across the province.

Hearthstone Child & Family Services Authority wishes to recognize the volunteers who serve on Community Councils for Hearthstone. Community councils have been established to serve the areas in and surrounding Didsbury, Drumheller, Hanna, Strathmore and Three Hills.

Community Councils exist to assist Hearthstone Child & Family Services in serving children and families. Community councils are the eyes and ears of the local communities with respect to the needs of children, families and communities. These councils enable communities to be included in the solutions to needs.

The volunteers who serve children and families in your community are dedicated and caring people. In addition to regular work and life schedules, they devote several hours a month to the assessment of need, discovering community solutions and the inclusion of communities in achieving these solutions.

Please take a moment in appreciation of the dedication, and commitment displayed by those serving on community councils.

Champions ...

The Didsbury Midget Girls fastball team found gold last month at a tournament in Airdrie. In spite of losses during the round robin, the team finished on top. The team will be defending their 2000 League Championship trophy this weekend in Crossfield. We anticipate a strong finish. The girls anticipate another opportunity to represent central Alberta in Provincial playdowns in July. Didsbury has won bronze medals the past two seasons. The team has a very strong offensive lineup and continues to be very competitive on the mound. The 2001 Spitshooters: Coach: Vickie Poffenroth Asst.: Gary Edwards, Christi Fillmore, Chelsie Poffenroth, Erica Blakely, Chris Pieper, Randi Mudry, Lindsey Edwards, Liz Blakely, Jaci Trenholm, Lindsey Poffenroth, Kim Pieper, Lindsay Way, Katie Hall and Kendra Brandsgard.

Down Didsbury's recreation road

The Town of Didsbury Recreation & Facility Services Department is busily preparing for summer operations. A few highlights that we're very excited about during the upcoming months are the Summer Fun program and Canada Day festivities, the School's Out Pool Parties, and training opportunities such as Scuba Certification!

What do children and youth look forward to almost more than Christmas and birthdays? The end of June - the end of the school year! What would such a joyous event be without a celebration? Plan on attending the Didsbury Aquatic Centres School's Out Pool Party. Two parties are being hosted this year: one for grades 1-6 on June 27 from 7:00 p.m. - 8:15 p.m. (sorry, family swim has been cancelled this evening for this celebration), and one for grades seven and up on June 25 from 9:15 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. (this is our regularly scheduled teen swim - only extended). Come out for games, prizes, refreshments and fun!

The Didsbury Aquatic Centre is offering summer swimming lessons, advanced courses such as Water Safety Instructor and First Aid training, and we're also offering Scuba certification courses! A discover scuba course has been set up for July 14 - explore and be introduced to the world of scuba. If you're looking for Scuba certification, an Open Water Certification course has been scheduled for July 21 and 22.

Call the Recreation & Facility Services department at 335-7369 for more information.

Starting a fitness program

Before you start any fitness program consult your physician. Okay the big day has come you have decided to get off the couch and back into an active lifestyle. Now where do you start?

Well since it is the information age we could go to the internet or buy one of a thousand fitness magazines. The problem becomes information overload. Well one magazine says this the other that, which is right? That's just about enough to send you back on to the couch.

Well I'll let you in on a little secret... they both are right but do they fit your needs or fitness goals. The most important thing to do is decide what you want to do. Do you want to gain muscle mass? Do you want to lose a few pounds?

Your body was not designed to lose fat and gain muscle at the same time. Body builders usually have to bulk up (gain weight, hoping to gain muscle) and then diet down (lose weight hoping to lose more fat than muscle) just before their contests. Now not all of us want to be body builders but we do want to improve our bodies. Start by identifying your goal ie lose body fat. Well there is only one way to lose body fat and that is to burn more calories (energy from food) then your body is consuming (eating food). The best way to do this is by doing cardio ie running, biking, walking or inline skating. Start slow 2-3 times per week for about 15-20 min. Keep your intensity at a moderate level, you should be able to talk while you exercise if need be.

After a few weeks increase your time by 5 minutes for each exercise session. You will have to continue for 4-6 weeks before you begin to see some weight lose. Remember do something you enjoy and be aware of what your eating and snacking on. One more thing, a fitness goal with a target helps.

Now go out and get into the shape you want and deserve to be in. If you have any questions call Marc at 335-8432.

Pee wee Jets keep rolling

On Monday Carstairs #1 came to play. The game was close in the first few innings but our boys kept hammering the ball. Defensively our captain Joe Kemmere pitched shut out ball the last half of the game. James Whalen made 2 sparkling catches and put outs to Steven Gole at first. Justin Martel made the highlights with a catch of a grounder off our pitcher to SS and gunned out the runner to Steve. Offensively Jan, Justin, Danny, Jonathon and Ryan never did record an out. Final score 16 - 8 for Jets. Great game boys. Our record now is win- 8 loss - 2. Our windup tourney is the weekend of 22-23 June.

MEMORIAM

FIFE, James Richard
In loving memory of our dear Son, Brother and Uncle who passed away 12 years ago on June 18, 1989.
We close our eyes, time can't erase,
The memory of our dear Son's face.
And all the things that meant so much,
His laughter and his gentle touch.
And even as the years go by,
And morning lights the nighttime sky,
Our Son will always live, you see,
Forever in our memory.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his family, Mom, Dad, Dave, Bill, Patti & their families

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks

To all who had a part in giving a helping hand and spiritual and other support to Marie From and family by relatives, friends, neighbours, doctors and caregivers during the many years she was a resident-patient at Didsbury District Health Services long term care. Also to Zion Evangelical Missionary Church pastor, Grant Sikstrom, Rev. Willard Swalm, soloist Larry Hooper, instrumentalists Bonnie Steckly and David Hooper, pallbearers and the church group that set up and served the luncheon after the funeral service. Thanks to all, including the 17 Ave. neighbours, for donations to the Rosebud Health Foundation in memory of Marie. Last but not least, our thanks to all who attended the funeral to give your respect and condolences.
